NEW TO ATRO®

NOTABLE CHANGES TO THE CATALOG

Individual OE Replacement Torque Rods may not be listed in the OEM section. To streamline the catalog, all TR50-##### torque rods have been excluded from the OEM section.

Immediately following the OEM section, you will find them in chart form starting on page 161. They are listed by bushing configuration and center-to-center rod length.

EXCITING BREAKTHROUGH

Following the government mandated changes in the regulation of emissions, EGR & SCR engines in newer heavy duty trucks are running hotter. The engine compartment temperature in these trucks is running as high as 300°F. ATRO teamed up with our sister R&D company, UET, Ultra-Polymeric Engineered Technologies, whose work in advanced polymers is legendary. Together, we developed a polyurethane that can withstand the elevated temperatures. ATRO's high temperature motor mounts have an extended range of performance at these higher temperatures. Laboratory and customer fleet tests have shown the new material's effectiveness operating at these excessive temperatures.

Indicates new part numbers that have been added to the ATRO product line since the 2012-2013 Product Catalog.

ATRO DOMESTIC WARRANTY POLICY

Most ATRO product is backed by a three-year parts warranty (see below for conditions and exceptions). During the warranty period beginning with the date of installation, ATRO will replace defective product at no charge. ATRO warranties defective product only. Product that has remained on the vehicle past the warranty period or product not sold by ATRO is not covered under warranty. ATRO's liability is limited to the replacement of defective product and conditional labor reimbursement through an authorized ATRO distributor.

A product is determined to be defective if a polyurethane to metal bond breaks, an internal component fit is loose, or if the product exhibits obvious signs of wear that will lead to premature failure under normal use. Overloading of the product or any other abnormal use voids warranty.

One year labor warranty requires installation onto the vehicle performed by an authorized ATRO installer. ATRO will reimburse labor charges to authorized distributors or installers at the rate of 75% of their published labor rates. ATRO does not offer labor warranty on exchange walking beam programs or over the counter sales.

EXCEPTIONS TO WARRANTY: MIXING ATRO POLYURETHANE PRODUCT WITH RUBBER PRODUCT OR COMPETITIVE POLYURETHANE PRODUCT WITHIN THE SAME APPLICATION VOIDS ALL WARRANTY.

SUSPENSION REBUILD KITS MUST BE COMPLETELY INSTALLED IN THE SUSPENSION BY AN ATRO AUTHORIZED INSTALLER IN ORDER TO BE COVERED BY WARRANTY. IF ONLY A PORTION OF THE KIT IS INSTALLED, WARRANTY IS VOID.

USE OF ATRO POLYURETHANE BUSHINGS IN ALUMINUM TORQUE ROD APPLICATIONS IS NOT RECOMMENDED AND SUCH USE WILL VOID WARRANTY, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE TS59-22400 WHICH CAN ONLY BE USE IN KENWORTH AIRGLIDE 200/400/460/690 TORQUE RODS (K195-474 AND K195-472).
