

New Product - Brake Shoe, Brake Kit, Cam Kit

Update #2324

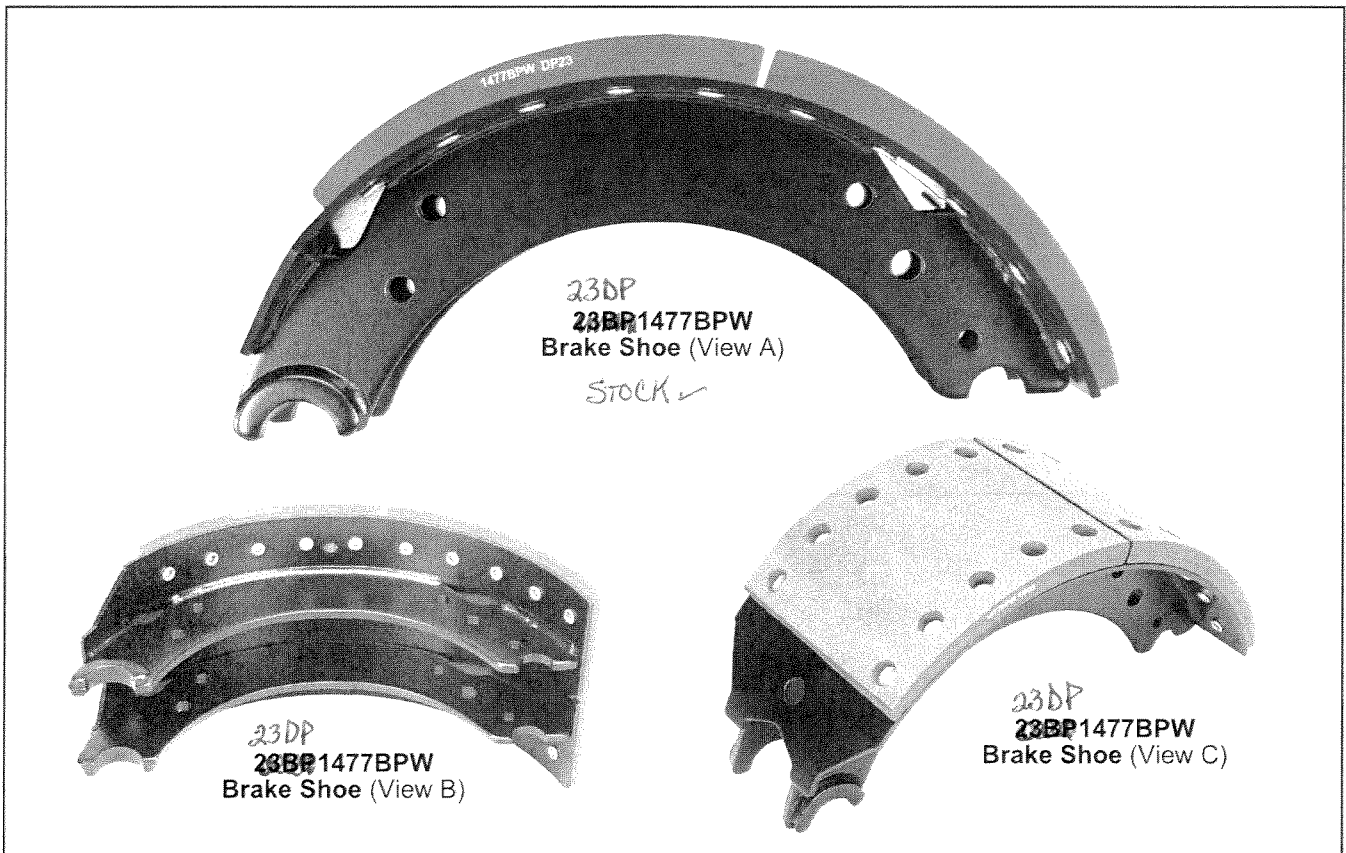

Attention: Dayton Parts' Distributors and Business Partners.

Dayton Parts has expanded its foundation brake coverage to now include new parts for the BPW Container Chassis.

A long time ago, back in the late 1980's a company called Bergische Achsenfabrik or BPW for short, came over from Europe to the US and sold a bunch of container chassis' with their R9000 trailer axle under them. After about a five year stint here they decided to "pull up their tent stakes" and go home. If memory serves me correctly, they went back home because they thought the business climate here was a little on the "vicious" side. To which all I could say is, "Welcome to the free market, eh!" But I digress.

There's still a fair amount of these container chassis' running around, mainly in the coastal states. To help maintain these, Dayton Parts has added the brake shoe, lined with our DP23 friction material, along with the brake and camshaft kits. We are in the process of sourcing the camshaft and slack adjuster but that's taking a little longer than we had originally anticipated. Be sure to watch for future new product bulletin on those additional parts as they become available.

All of these parts are in stock and can be added to your regular Dayton Parts stock order. You'll find pricing for these new parts in this quarter's Brake & Wheel Promo.
